“ It seems like Matt has been part of the Keller family for his whole life. From the first time we met him, he was warm and funny and welcoming and clearly in love with his Nicki. He welcomed us as his own Aunt and Uncle. Gail was like a second mother to him.

Through some tough times, he was the rock that got Nicki through. His patience, humor, and love were exactly what she always needed.

The flood of well wishes that are being sent to Nicki and his family are testament to the impact he had on his world. While we can never understand why he was taken much too soon, we can be grateful that he was here for the time we had him. We will survive this loss, but the world will never be the same without him in it.

We loved you Matt, not only for who you are but for the great husband you were to our special Nicki.

Rest in Peace. We will take good care of her now.

“ There are people we meet who unexpectedly impact our lives. There was a genuineness about Matt that struck a cord with me the first time we met and we've been friends ever since. He was an old soul; a little beyond his years in how he looked at things and how he carried himself. Smart and talented; there was little he couldn't do. He had an artist's eye; he brought so much creative thought to our work and the impact he made will be visible for a long time. We played guitar together; he was much better than I was. Matt was naturally gifted in so many things and it was evident in all that he did. It's sad to think of all we will miss that Matt brought.

I will miss our conversations. He suffered through countless hours at coffee shops with me (he didn't really drink coffee). Life, work; it didn't matter, just talking. Matt had a passion and a drive to be better and he was. I enjoyed that about him. It was fun being part of his growth and I will always value what he's done for me. He was my friend and I will miss him.
